

Recall: Naked Bread Hamburger Buns

United States Bakery Issues Allergy Alert On Undeclared Milk In Naked Bread Hamburger Buns

United States Bakery of Portland, Oregon is recalling Naked Bread Hamburger Buns #NothingToHide, 8 pack, affected lot codes F6 Best By June 16th, 2018 through July 16th 2018, because it may contain undeclared milk. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume this product.

Product is fresh and sold in the bread aisle at retail stores and was distributed directly in Northern California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah, Washington between June 2, 2018 and July 2, 2018.

Product is packaged in low density polyethylene bag and identified as "Naked Bread Hamburger Buns #NothingToHide, 8 pack, Net wt. 16.5 oz., UPC #72220 11075. The affected lot codes are F6 Best By June 16th, 2018 through July 16th 2018.

No illnesses have been reported to date. The recall was initiated after it was discovered that product containing milk was distributed in packaging that did not reveal the listing of milk.

Consumers who have purchased the affected Naked Bread Hamburger Buns, 8 pack, and have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk can return product to a place of purchase for full refund.

Consumers with questions may contact the company at 1-503-232-2191 x4999 between 8 am-5 pm PST, Monday-Friday, or inquiries may be made online at nakedbread.com.